Team Leader / Senior Consultant

You must be an excellent recruiter, have the passion and patience to develop others and possess the drive and motivation to achieve personal and team targets. As a high-billing consultant you will grow your team into an existing or new sector for our company. Either way you will be at the forefront of 360 Resourcing as an ambassador of our business.

This key role to our growth demands an exceptional recruitment consultant who is looking for that next step up. We will provide the necessary support and autonomy for you to achieve your personal and business goals.

Recruitment Consultant / Account Manager

You will be an experienced recruitment consultant with a proven track record in delivering solutions for your clients. Your specific sector experience is less important than your personal presence, passion, positive attitude and track record of delivering month-in, month-out.

In this role you will have tremendous opportunities to learn and develop your skills in online candidate attraction and online media that will add another string to your bow.

Business Development Executive

You should be skilled at researching business, sourcing and following-up leads and have the persuasion, tenacity and confidence to engage them with 360 resourcing and our services

If you love sales, cold calling, closing the deal and building long term relationships, you'll find we'll give you the scope to take your career forward, faster.

Graduate / Trainee Consultant

You will need to have experience in a sales, service, marketing or advertising position and the desire to develop a successful career in recruitment and resourcing, OR you will be recently graduated. Your degree subject is not important but your active interest in business, marketing or advertising is. You will require a proactive approach to business development and an eagerness to learn from the team around you.

The role is focused on giving you an all-round grounding in recruitment and developing you into a consultant with your own clients.

Headhunter / Resourcer

You will be focused on finding and identifying talent for our clients' vacancies for which previous recruitment experience is not essential. That's because you will work closely with a number of consultants and have the opportunity to learn about the business and our clients from the inside.

This is a proactive role where you need the drive and determination to deliver results and will have the opportunity to learn and progress quickly up to a trainee consultant role.
